

BABYLEAF CORIANDER

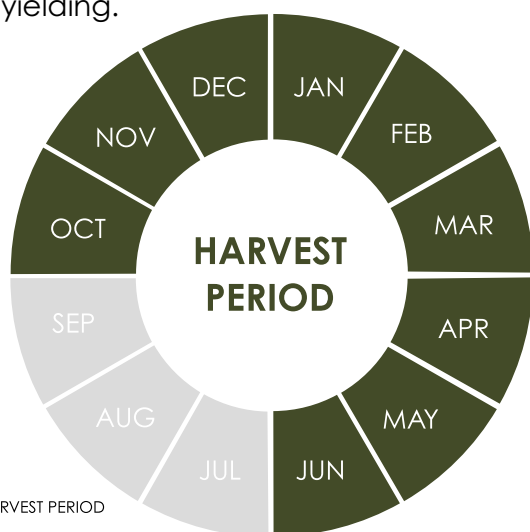

SKYROS

SKYROS is the darkest green coriander in our range. It produces a leaf of similar shape to our traditional Cilantro but is better suited to warm conditions.

Initial trials have shown this variety to be very versatile in its harvest window as it shows reasonable vigour to push through the challenging conditions of spring and autumn but will also handle the warmer summer months.

SKYROS produces a very dark-green leaf and deep green stem, making it stand out from traditional varieties. The leaf thickness of this variety ensures good shelf life of harvested product while the dark colour makes it a very attractive sleeved product. SKYROS has a strong coriander flavour and is very high yielding.

The information provided here is based on an average of data and observations collected from our trials.
