

BABYLEAF CORIANDER

SALINA

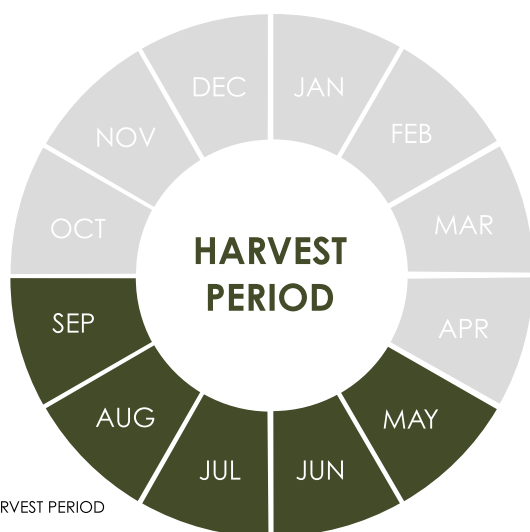

SALINA is a high-vigour coriander for cool season production only.

SALINA is quick to jump out of the ground and reaches maturity faster than other highly vigorous, traditional corianders in the market.

Internal trials showed SALINA to reach harvest maturity up to 10 days earlier than our standard, cool-season variety Cilantro.

SALINA produces a strong coriander flavour and high leaf counts, resulting in high yields.

The information provided here is based on an average of data and observations collected from our trials.
